RED ARMS SHIPPED TO IRAQ PORT

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Reports that Soviet-armed Kurdish tribesmen are being shipped through the Suez Canal to Iraq aroused speculation today that the Soviet Union is helping Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem form a pro-Communist Foreign Legion.

Egyptian authorities said three Soviet ships — one carrying 855 fully armed Kurds and the other two loaded with military equipment — passed through the canal since Sunday bound for Iraq's big Persian Gulf port of Basra.

The Kurds, though not Arabs, are scattered through Arab regions as well as into the Soviet Union and make up one million of Iraq's 6 million people. Many have long dreamed of carving out their own nation of the areas of northern Iraq, western Iran and eastern Turkey which they inhabit.

Observers at Port Said reported the tribesmen passing through the canal were Soviet citizens of Kurdish origin, from the southernmost regions of the Soviet Union. The United Arab Republic's Middle East News Agency said the Soviet Kurds were trained in guerrilla fighting.

The agency, without giving a source, said more Soviet ships, carrying new groups of Communists, are expected at Port Said en route to Iraq.

There was no foreign confirmation of the Egyptian reports. Nasser has been waging a bitter campaign against Kassem, accusing the Iraqi Premier of letting the Communists get the upper hand in Iraq. Kassem, with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev seconding him, has blamed Nasser for the recent unsuccessful army revolt in north Iraq.

Only a week ago Kassem hinted he might grant the Iraqi Kurds self-government — a move that would meet with favor in Moscow.

The Communist-trained Kurds could form the nucleus of foreign legion units which the Egyptian press said Kassem is forming. Cairo papers said their mission is to oppose Arab nationalists in Iraq who want to swing their country closer to the U.A.R. and President Nasser and who are against the (Turn to Page Twelve)

Results of Election Held In Michigan Still in Doubt With Republicans Hopeful

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Republicans cling to leads in three of 12 education races in Michigan today and hoped for their first statewide election victories there since 1955.

Voters started to the polls today in Chicago, Oklahoma and Wisconsin.

Chicago voted for a mayor, Oklahoma decided whether to repeal prohibition, and Wisconsin, in non-partisan voting, elected a State Supreme Court justice and other officials.

In Michigan, the results of Monday's election continued in doubt, with about three fifths of the precincts reporting. The size of the vote was impressive. Officials believed it might exceed the record spring election turnout of 1,124,000 in 1957.

Industrial Detroit, apparently concerned with unemployment and a 60-million-dollar school bond issue, had a big turnout. The vote of the heavily Democratic city might have reached 600,000, officials said. This would top the city's previous record of almost 125,000.

A heavy Detroit vote, if it continued Democratic, could erase Republican chances of winning any education posts.

Beside holding slim leads in nine of the 12 education races, Democrats also had a better showing in the contests for Michigan's Supreme Court. Although the ballot is technically non-partisan, candidates receive party endorsements.

In Oklahoma wets believe they have their best chance in 51 years to repeal prohibition. This will be the sixth time they have tried.

About 700,000 are expected to vote on a two-part ballot. First, they will decide whether to make sale of packaged liquor legal. Then they will decide if, under repeal, individual counties may continue prohibition on their own.

In Chicago, the only doubt concerned the size of Democratic Mayor Richard J. Daley's majority in winning a second four-year term. Timothy P. Sheehan, Republican candidate, is given little chance of upsetting Daley in a city that has sent Democrats to the mayoralty in every election since 1931.

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan's spring election battle ran in doubt today.

Republicans, seeking to stem three years of unbroken Democratic success in fights for state office, led in three of 12 partisan contests. Democrats led the nine others.

But in a horse race for votes from the nation's first statewide election of the year the final outcome remained clouded.

Industrial Detroit, a Democratic stronghold, had a big vote. How much of it was due strictly to a 60-million-dollar school bond issue battle left a question.

Another New Natural Gas Well in Clearfield

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Another new natural gas well is producing in the western Pennsylvania area. The new well, located near Penfield in Clearfield County, was drilled by James Drilling Corp. of Blairsville.

The gas was struck Sunday at 7,393 feet. The well was fractured after an initial flow of 2,049,000 cubic feet.

This is the second well to boom since Saturday. Peoples Natural Gas Co. also brought in a well in Jenner Twp. in Somerset County.

Link Soviets With Argentine Rioting

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) —

The Argentine government today linked Soviet-bloc diplomats with the bloody labor riot in Buenos Aires last week and said at least one envoy had been ordered expelled.

A government statement said similar action is being considered against "other members of the diplomatic corps from countries behind the Iron Curtain." The expelled diplomat was not named.

Argentina is the second Latin American country to act against Soviet bloc diplomats within a week.

Lama Is Leaving For Monastery Town of Towang

By WATSON SIMS

NEW DELHI (AP) — Tibet's Dalai Lama prepared to leave the remote monastery town of Towang today and push deeper into India as the Buddhist faithful flocked to pay homage to the fugitive godking.

The Dalai Lama was expected to continue his slow journey today through the mountainous north-eastern zone which is barred to all outsiders because of Naga tribesmen who for years have been warring for independence.

Bomdilla, a military headquarters some 70 miles off, was believed to be the next goal. The journey on horseback was expected to take four or five days.

The party was reported moving in two groups—with a large advance patrol serving as guard to the 23-year-old ruler and his top aides. With the 80 Tibetans is a strong guard of Assam state rifle-men and constabulary in addition to Indian army units.

The young ruler, venerated by his people as the reincarnation of Buddha, was reported making frequent stops to bless followers who flock in from the surrounding countryside.

Fugitive Charged With Slaying Is Dead in Gun Duel

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C. (AP) —

A desperate escaped prisoner charged with slaying a bank teller was killed and his companion captured during a blazing gun battle with police at a road block Monday night.

Officers said Charles Thomas Bradford, 29, who sat wounded and bleeding in his getaway car after the gun battle, may have committed suicide as Captain C. R. Williams of the Highway Patrol grappled with him for his pistol.

The gun discharged, the bullet hitting Bradford in the neck. Already severely wounded, the final wound apparently caused Bradford's death.

Bradford, charged with the slaying of a bank teller during a holdup Feb. 20, and John William Odum, 18, of Fayetteville, charged with car theft, escaped from the Cumberland County Jail early Saturday after tricking a jailer into opening their cell.

An intensified manhunt finally led police to a field 20 (Turn to Page Twelve)

Adenauer Is Candidate for Presidency

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today agreed to run for the presidency of West Germany, a decision that means his retirement from active politics.

The surprising decision was announced by Eugen Gerstenmaier, president of the Bundestag or lower house of Parliament, at a news conference.

Gerstenmaier said the ruling Christian Democrats, who nominated Adenauer, have yet to discuss their choice as Adenauer's successor as chancellor.

The post of president in West Germany is largely a ceremonial one.

Adenauer, 83, the only government chief postwar Germany has had, himself presided at a meeting of a special committee set up by the party to choose a presidential candidate.

His decision means that Adenauer will retire from active politics next July, when the second term of President Theodor Heuss expires. Heuss is ineligible to run again.

Ludwig Erhard, the economics minister, is considered the most likely choice of the Christian Democrats to succeed to the chancellorship.

The sudden turn of events caught West Germany by surprise. It was known that Adenauer had urged Erhard to accept the presidential nomination while the Chancellor prepared for the federal elections in 1961.

Adenauer is serving his third term as chancellor and had been expected to seek a fourth. It was considered possible that Adenauer might continue to play an important role in formation of West German policy, particularly in the foreign field.

Informants pointed out that while the constitution bars the president from partisan political activity, it does not keep him from sitting in Cabinet meetings and exerting influence within inner banks of the government.

Asked whether Adenauer would influence foreign policy, Gerstenmaier waved a copy of the constitution and said reporters might seek an answer themselves.

Erhard, a roly-poly onetime professor, has been the architect of West Germany's economic revival from the ashes of World War II. Erhard has been West Germany's economics minister since Adenauer picked him for the post in 1949. His program of "Social Free Enterprise"—something new in this land where tight government controls are the tradition—had Adenauer's backing.

In 1957 the old German leader named his economic czar vice chancellor and heir apparent.

Scott Predicts Nixon Will be Easy Winner

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.) predicts that Vice President Nixon will win the Republican nomination for president by acclamation at the 1960 convention.

"Nixon can and will win," Scott told newsmen during an interview Monday night.

He also said he is backing Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky for chairman of the Republican National Committee.

In saying this, he made no mention of Rep. Richard Simpson of Huntington who has been mentioned for the post.

PROBABLY METEOR

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A glowing, soundless bright object trailing a green tail streaked eastward over central California Monday night.

Most reports agreed it probably was a meteor which broke up toward the end of its flight. All observers reported it at 8:45 p.m. but from there the variations began, depending on who saw it, and where.

Week of Relaxation Helpful to Dulles

JUPITER ISLAND, Fla. (AP) — John Foster Dulles, beginning his second week of Florida convalescence today, seems improved to observers.

Joseph M. Green, his aide, said a week of relaxation in sunshine obviously has been a good tonic for the secretary.

Dulles is resting at the Jupiter Island home of Undersecretary C. Douglas Dillon after a hernia operation and radiation treatment for cancer.

Skate Returns From Second Arctic Trip

GROTON, Conn. (AP) — The atomic submarine Skate came back triumphantly today from her second trip under the North Pole.

Her captain, Cmdr. James P. Calvert, waved from the conning tower of the nuclear ship as fog horns sounded, whistles screamed and a fireboat shot water into the air in welcome.

The Skate showed signs of her scrape with arctic ice. A few marks and a bit of rust were on her sides, apparently caused by her surfacing in arctic waters.

The damage appeared to be very slight.

"Welcome Home, North Pole Sitters," waved a sign from workers at General Dynamics Corp.'s Electric Boat Division, who built the nuclear vessel.

Summerfield Is Boomed for GOP Chairmanship

WASHINGTON (AP) — Conservative Republicans were reported urging Postmaster Arthur E. General Summerfield today to seek the GOP national chairmanship.

The party's National Committee, meeting here Friday and Saturday, will name a successor to Meade Alcorn, who is resigning to return to his private law practice.

The committee also may vote to hold the GOP presidential nominating convention in Chicago in the week beginning July 25, 1960. A site subcommittee, headed by State Chairman Ray Bliss of Ohio, meets here Wednesday. It is understood to have such a recommendation in mind.

Summerfield's name was injected into speculation over the chairmanship after it had appeared in a recent issue of the (Turn to Page Twelve)

Cab Service Halted by Strike in Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Yellow Cab Co. service in Pittsburgh was halted today for the first time in 11 years in a labor dispute.

Taxi service in the Pittsburgh area also is provided by Peoples Cab Co. and a number of smaller firms in suburban communities.

Yellow Cab suspended service at 1 a.m. after Mechanics Local 1060 voted 243 to reject a two-year wage offer and set up picket lines.

Taxi Drivers Local 128 planned a meeting of its 1,000 drivers to decide whether to honor the mechanics' picket lines. The drivers also had been scheduled to strike Monday midnight, but they agreed over the weekend to extend the deadline until Thursday while studying a last-minute company proposal.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment declined 387,000 in March to 4,362,000. Employment jumped by 1,106,000 to 63,828,000.

The government, in reporting this today, said the rise in employment and drop in unemployment were both about twice the amount seasonally expected for the month.

It was the biggest February-to-March drop in unemployment since 1950. The employment rise for the month was the biggest since 1951.

Seymour Wolfstein, head of the Labor Department Employment Statistics Bureau, told a news conference that while the improvement was partly seasonal the job picture definitely shows substantial signs of repair from depression damage.

The seasonally adjusted ratio of unemployment to the total work force declined from 6.1 per cent in February to 5.8 per cent in March.

Wolfstein's holding a news conference to release the report was an unprecedented thing.

Ordinarily, the regular monthly job reports of the Commerce and Labor Departments have simply been handed to newsmen in printed releases.

The unusual procedure pointed up the administration's gratification over the developments. Administration officials from President Eisenhower on down had forecast such gratifying improvements.

Secretary of Commerce Lewis Strauss said the changes reflected in the job report would be "actually the best improvement figures between February and March in years." (Turn to Page Twelve)

Ailing Father Strangles Three Tots and Sister

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — An ailing father strangled his three children and spinster sister Monday, then died in the home he set afire.

Kirk Kraus, 47, strangled the four with a clothesline. Then he met his wife at the front door as she came home from work.

"Our worries are over," he said. "I killed the kids."

He hit her and grabbed her throat. She twisted free and fled to a neighbor's house where she gasped out the alarm.

Before help came, flames burst from the three-story home. Firemen found dead or dying on every floor, starting at the basement.

They were Linda, 12, Donald, 9, and Richard, 8, and Kraus' sister, Elizabeth, about 50.

On the top floor, near the flames, lay the 200-pound, six-foot Kraus, dying of smoke inhalation in the house where he was born.

A factory worker, he went on sick leave a year ago, stayed weeks in a veterans hospital for surgery on his legs, then spent some time on crutches.

OBJECTIONABLE FEATURES OF LAWRENCE BILL ARE DEBATED AT CONFERENCE

By BILL GIBSON

HARRISBURG (AP) — Rep. Stephen McCann, Democratic floor leader, said today he and Gov. Lawrence will continue efforts to get sufficient votes to pass the governor's 3½ per cent sales tax proposal in its present form.

McCann told newsmen after a 45-minute closed-door meeting with Lawrence that he and the governor discussed "some of the objectionable features" of the bill in its present form which has drawn Democratic opposition.

"I agreed with the governor that we should go ahead next week in our attempts to pass the bill in the House in its present form," McCann said. "The governor still has hopes of getting some Republican votes in the House."

The Democratic House leader indicated Lawrence would look further into "suggested alterations" in his proposed boost of the tax from 3 to 3½ per cent and broadening its coverage, if it failed to pass next week.

"We certainly are not going into any tax stalemate of many months," McCann said.

Asked specifically if Lawrence made on possible alterations to comply with demands of some rebelling Democratic House members, McCann replied:

"We both agreed to try to pass the bill next week in its present form."

The Greene County lawmaker declined to specify what "objectionable" sections of the proposed tax plan he discussed with Lawrence.

He said Lawrence expressed "deep disappointment" at claims of the GOP House leaders that their party would not provide any votes to pass the measure in its present form.

"We are continuing to work with our Democratic members who are opposing this form and trying to find out what they want or don't want," McCann explained.

He said the tax proposal would not be called to the House floor for a vote this week.

He said the conclusion reached in the conference was that there are "many different ways to tackle" the problem.

Before meeting with Lawrence, McCann said he had a compromise tax proposal to offer the governor after giving up on passing the 264-million-dollar program in its present form.

Gov. Lawrence has pushed for increasing the sales tax from its present 3 per cent to a new rate of 3½ per cent and expanding it to include such items as beer, liquor and automobile trade-ins.

"I expect to meet with the governor and present to him some proposals," McCann said at a news conference Monday night. "What I'm going to tell him I'm not going to tell you. It wouldn't be fair."

McCann made it plain that he no longer has hopes of passing the sales tax in its present form. He had just heard a flat statement on the House floor from Rep. Albert (Turn to Page Twelve)

Graham Bit Exhausted For Campaign Windup

CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand (AP) — Billy Graham arrived today for the windup of his New Zealand crusade, reportedly "a bit exhausted" from the pace he has been keeping.

"Billy has been warned that overwork may cause a recurrence of his eye trouble," said Leighton Ford, a member of the Graham team. "He probably will rest up awhile before returning to the United States in mid-June."

Graham hurriedly left Athletic Park in Wellington Monday night after preaching to some 17,000 persons. He was reported not feeling well.

After the incident, Bert Parks, the master of ceremonies, told the audience "He's okay, ladies and gentlemen." Another contestant was brought on and the show continued. Weber was burned on the face, neck and arms. He is in Bromville Hospital.

The program was the National Broadcasting Co.'s "County Fair."

A spokesman for the show said a match was touched to a long fake firecracker fuse, which the blindfolded wife was supposed to stamp out. To simulate an explosion, a mixture of flour and sawdust was dropped on Weber's head. The simulated explosion developed into a real one when the mixture caught fire.

Ike Off for An Extended Visit in South

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower flew off today for a golfing vacation in Augusta, Ga.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower took off in the presidential plane Columbine III at 10:51 a.m.

As he boarded the plane, Eisenhower gave an affectionate pat to a painting of a columbine—Colorado's state flower—at the side of the entrance door.

The President's doctor indirectly reports him in good health but in need of sunshine and exercise. So Eisenhower may make the Augusta National Golf Club in Georgia his headquarters for almost two weeks.

His last extended vacation — 13 days — was in Augusta at Thanksgiving time.

Eisenhower, accompanied by his wife, arranged to leave at mid-morning aboard the President's private plane, Columbine III.

In announcing last week that Eisenhower hoped to get to Augusta, press secretary James C. Hagerty said the White House physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, felt that the President "needs some warm climate and some exercise" — and a break from the routine of his office.

But Hagerty added then, and repeated Monday, that Snyder (Turn to Page Twelve)

TV Contestant Is Painfully Burned During Program

NEW YORK (AP) — A contestant on a nationwide television stunt show was reported in good condition today from burns suffered when a stunt backfired.

Manfred Weber, 30, a builder of Tuckahoe, N.Y., was taking part in a stunt with his wife Monday when he was suddenly enveloped in a flash explosion. The studio was thrown into confusion.

After the incident, Bert Parks, the master of ceremonies, told the audience "He's okay, ladies and gentlemen." Another contestant was brought on and the show continued. Weber was burned on the face, neck and arms. He is in Bromville Hospital.

The program was the National Broadcasting Co.'s "County Fair."

U.S. Coast Guard Rushing To Aid of Injured Red Seaman

KODIAK, Alaska (AP) — A U.S. Coast Guard cutter slashed through the wind-whipped waves of the Bering Sea early today, rushing to the aid of a critically injured Soviet seaman.

The cutter Storik left Akun Bay on the Aleutian Island chain on an international mission of mercy to the Soviet trawler Pischavaya Industriya, located about 100 miles to the north in the general direction of the Pribilof Islands.

The waves crested 10 to 15 feet high and winds of 30 to 48 miles an hour lashed the area, the Coast Guard said.

Object of the emergency trip was an unidentified Soviet seaman who fractured both arms and legs in a tumble into the hold of his ship.

A roundabout request for aid came from the Soviet Embassy in Washington to the State Department. That brought a coordinated effort by the Navy and Treasury Department, which has jurisdiction over the Coast Guard.

The plan was for the cutter to meet the Soviet vessel, administer first aid and then remove the seaman for transportation to a hospital at Anchorage. An amphibious plane was to meet the cutter at Dutch Harbor in the Aleutians to take the injured man on the last leg of the mercy trip.

UNITED CHANGES PLAN

The United Refining Company will not exercise its option to buy the 70-year old Gifford Building structure in Jamestown, where it had planned to erect a filling station. Public opposition and higher cost of acquiring the building; demolition and tax estimates than first expected, were given as reasons for the company's change of plans. Jamestown city council had agreed to sell the building to the firm for $12,000.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Susan Hayward, who once despaired of ever winning an Oscar, got one Monday night on her fifth try. David Niven, who has been pleasing movie audiences for 25 years now, was similarly honored.

The Brooklyn-born redhead and the debonair Scotsman won the top Academy Awards for acting before an audience filled with most of the big names in the entertainment industry. They shared honors with the movie "Gigi," which won in every one of the nine categories for which it was nominated—including best picture.

Burl Ives and the British actress Wendy Hiller won Oscars for best supporting performances. More than 100 big names—from Ingrid Bergman to Eddie Fisher—gave a nationwide television audience an electronic peek at Hollywood's biggest night of the year. The acceptance speeches were so short that the NBC-TV show ended some 20 minutes before its two-hour schedule. Miss Hayward enacted the role of murderer Barbara Graham in "I Want to Live."

While the picture was being made, she told a reporter that "after four disappointments I'm no longer in the business for Oscars. Just say that I do it for the money and the joy of doing a good part."

She admitted that Monday night's results have changed her views considerably. "I thought I had a good chance but I was pleasantly surprised," she said. "And above all thrilled and honored."

Niven won the top actor award for playing a pathetic woman-molester in "Separate Tables." It was one of the few times in his career that he did not play what the trade calls "a David Niven type."

Niven said, "Damn it, I must say I wanted to win and I'm happy I did."

"Gigi" got Oscars for best picture, best screen play based on material from another medium, best directing for Vincente Minnelli, best art direction, best color photography, best song (the title number), film editing, costume design and best scoring of a musical picture. The music for "Gigi" was written by the "My Fair Lady" team of Frederick

COLE HILL

COLE HILL — Mrs. Robert Green, Erie, was given a birthday party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Benedict Sunday. Dinner was served, including ice cream and birthday cake. Robert Green and sons, Kenny and Tommy, were also present.

L. L. Dey, Torpedo, started to watch for fires at Cole Hill fire tower April 1. So far no fires have been reported.

Snow fences have been taken down for the summer. Farmers are getting ready to plant gardens and sow oats.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benedict and son, Lewis, Ross Hill, visited Mr. and Mrs. Lee Benedict at Jamestown.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Colvin and family, Clarendon, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray McChesney at Torpedo.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Burnel Holmes at Torpedo were Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Burt. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Benson and daughter, Beverly, Tuscarora.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Eastman and sons, Charles and Fred, were dinner guests of Fred Palmer at Youngsville.

Services each Sunday at 9:00 a. m. in Garland Presbyterian church, with Sunday School at 10:00 a. m. Dr. D. L. Say, Chautauque, gave the message.

Mrs. Fred Rulander celebrated her birthday Sunday at her home on Davy Hill, with a family dinner and birthday cake baked by Jean Jacobson. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Plattner and family, Meadville; Mr. and Mrs. Kyler Thomas, Atlantic, Pa. Alton Cady was a guest at the Rulander home recently. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rulander paid respects to the late Stanley Flow at Youngsville.

Loewe and Alan J. Lerner. Lerner also got the award for the best screenplay for "Gigi." Ives, the 300-pound folk singer, took a night off from his show at Las Vegas Flamingo Hotel to pick up his Oscar. He played a sort of Western Big Daddy in "The Big Country."

Miss Hiller was not in town to receive her award. Earlier she told a reporter by long distance phone from London that she couldn't understand how she ever got nominated. She played the lovelorn hotel manager of "Separate Tables."

"All you could see of me in the picture," she said, "was the back of my head. Unless they give some award for acting with one's back to the camera, I don't stand a chance."

The fast pace of the proceedings, with the consequent time left over caught everyone off guard. Emcee Jerry Lewis panicked and tried some stalling tactics which appeared inept.

Nobody seemed to know whose fault it was. Academy President George Stevens merely remarked, "The show went so smoothly that we had time left over."

He didn't explain why performers and winners were told to hurry up their parts during the performance.

COUNTY EXTENSION OFFICE NEWS

MOLES IN LAWN HARD TO CONTROL

Moies feed almost entirely on earthworms, grubs, and insects found in the soil. They search for food by extending their tunnels just under the surface of the soil. These feeding tunnels are noticed as small ridges of soil or turf. An individual mole may make extensive runways over as much as a quarter of an acre in search of food. They have a tremendous appetite and in a day's time will often eat their weight in earthworms and grubs.

Asst. County Agent, Blaine Schlosser, says under most conditions, moles should be considered beneficial, because they destroy many injurious insects in the soil. Only when they invade cultivated land and lawns and cause damage should any control measures be used.

Mice and rats often use a mole's runways. Moles are often blamed for much of the damage that these rodents do to seeds, tubers, and roots of cultivated plants and flowers.

Moies are difficult to control. Trapping is slow but is the most dependable method. Specially designed traps are used, with the harpoon and choke-type traps most common.

It's hard to poison moles, so poison baits are seldom successful. A number of stores have a prepared mole bait available. This product has been reported effective in many mole tunnels. Directions and precautions with the mole bait must be followed closely.

Mole runways in lawns and gardens may be an indication of a white grub infestation in that area. Treating the area with chemicals to eliminate the grubs will make the lawns and gardens less attractive to moles.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Oscar Homolka, who once slept on cafe table tops, now has an art collection he values at $500,000.

One of the greatest living character actors, a veteran of more than 200 plays and 80 films, his long career lacks one final crown—the Academy Award.

In the past Homolka has been nominated for the award. But Oscar is still Oscarless. It doesn't worry him.

"Sometimes perhaps the right year and the right picture will come along," he said cheerfully. "An Oscar is a fine thing to get. Let's face it—it's very good for business."

A crowded lifetime on two continents has left Homolka philosophic about fortune, good or bad. Now starring in the Broadway drama, "Rashomon," he started acting at 18 in his native Vienna for about $9 a month.

"After I was paid for my first engagement," he recalls, "I had to decide whether I would eat or rent a room for the night."

"I decided on eating, and I slept in the coffee house on a table. I lived like that for three months."

Today he thinks a measure of hardship is good for beginners in show business.

"Those who are sensible give up," he said. "It is too tough for them. But if there were nothing but glamour, too many would stay in the business who ought to get out."

"There's nothing worse than an unsuccessful actor. He has a miserable life."

The beetle-browed actor, noted for his skill at Russian roles, has portrayed Soviet leaders ranging from Leon Trotsky to Premier Nikita Khrushchev. But although he is fluent in English, German and French, he has never learned to speak Russian.

In his youth he spent 2½ years with Austrian ski troops in Italy during World War I.

Oscar loves good living, and one of the sorrows of his life is that he has to diet to keep his chunky frame mobile.

"But you have to make the best of what is possible," he remarked, growing pleasantly as he put on his monocle and inspected his entire lunch—a chunk of ground meat and nothing else.

Here is Homolka:

"Two things I hate most deeply: sloppiness of mind and intolerance. People won't take the trouble to think even to the extent of their limitations."

"Stupid people bore me. I prefer a crook to a stupid person. You can deal with a crook, but with a stupid person you are up against a double wall."

"I don't believe in fear. What is the use of being afraid? That won't change anything."

"Everybody gets at least one big chance, and usually two or three. You can always look back and say, 'That was the moment!'"

"Success that is thrown in your lap is one of the greatest of dangers."

"My greatest pleasures are reading and looking at beautiful paintings. I started collecting French impressionists at a time when one could afford to. In collecting, as in anything else, you should aim only at the best. You're never in trouble if you go only for top quality."

Homolka is in no trouble at all. One Renour for which he paid $15,000 now is valued at $200,000.

And it has been a long, long time since he had to sleep on a cafe table.

BOY CHOIR PATRON SALE

An item on another page calls attention to the fact that a campaign has been launched to sell advance patron tickets for the annual spring concert by the Warren Boy Choir at Beatty Auditorium Tuesday evening, May 5th.

Emphasizing the widespread interest in the boys eighty parents of lads who sing in the first and second choirs are contacting local industry, business places and individuals to give everyone an opportunity to support the activity through a patron gift. For each such gift of at least $10.00, two tickets to the annual concert are being issued. Those in charge are confident that patron list for the spring show will be a long and influential one.

It is interesting to note that the Boy Choir is completing twelve years of service, during which time the group has become nationally noted as a goodwill ambassador for the community. Since it is a non-profit organization, it depends to a large extent on contributions from the public to carry on its interesting and entertaining work.

We join in urging a generous response to the patron sale which will continue for one week.

"Forward With Fitness" has been selected as the theme for what sounds like a very interesting activity to be staged under the auspices of the Warren High School physical education department, Thursday and Friday in the Beatty gym. A little in advance of President Eisenhower's proclaimed "Fitness for Youth Week", next month, it appears the program will be entirely in keeping with suggestions as contained in his proclamation setting aside the period of May 3 to 9, as National Youth Fitness Week. Tickets are now available and we suggest it would be a good idea to buy early and avoid the rush.

WORLD TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW
 Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Joe and John stand up to each other, their fists clenched, ready for a brawl. Suddenly Joe says to John: "You fool around with me and I'll knock your brains out. I can do it."

If John believes him, he'll put his fists back in his pockets, and walk away with as much dignity as he has left.

But what happens if John doesn't believe Joe? There'll be an awful mess.

Recently the United States played Joe to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's John. American military leaders—Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy and the Joint Chiefs of Staff—said this country has enough nuclear bombs and bombers to flatten the U.S.S.R. if it starts a war.

This must have been very reassuring to Americans. The important question is: does Khrushchev believe it? That question was raised by Gen. Thomas S. Power, commander of the Strategic Air Command's bombers which would have to do the flattening.

In 50 minutes of brilliant and unbroken testimony before a House appropriations subcommittee, Power summed up the whole problem of what he called the "philosophy of deterrence."

"What we think of ourselves," Power said, "does not really amount to anything so far as deterrence is concerned. It is only what Mr. Khrushchev thinks of our capabilities that is important from a deterrence point of view."

"Therefore, he must be made aware of our strength."

He pointed out: "The one starting the next war—since it would be terribly swift with jets and missiles—would have an advantage. The reason: the one attacked would have only a brief warning at best before it could start retaliating."

Worse still, the country attacked would probably have much of its retaliatory power destroyed in the first onslaught.

Therefore, Power is banking a lot on keeping a number of manned bombers, equipped with bombs, in the air 24 hours a day so they could strike back instantly if the Soviet Union attacked. That initial Soviet attack might destroy a lot of American planes still on the ground.

But Khrushchev—if he knew a number of American bombers were in the air and could hit back at once—would think twice before pulling a trigger.

He'd know those on-the-ready American bombers could do terrible damage to the Soviet Union even if the U.S.S.R. thereafter, because of its surprise attack, were able to go on and win the war.

But would suffering that terrible damage be, for Khrushchev, worth enduring in order to win the war? Power said only Khrushchev not the United States, could know the answer to that.

To complicate things, Power said, Khrushchev's idea of how much damage the Soviet Union could suffer might vary from week to week. That brings the story back to how much Khrushchev believes about American strength and how much he believes about Soviet strength.

Power said: "I think Mr. Khrushchev's Sputniks and scientists are telling him they are away ahead. I am sure his air defense command people are telling him they are the greatest."

"If there are any signs of weakness that came out of this country, I think this could become a very dangerous combination. So there is a danger of miscalculation."

"Deterrence is meaningless unless Mr. Khrushchev is impressed with our capability."

As of now, Power said, he thinks this country has so much power that Khrushchev can make no mistake about its adequacy. The general added:

"Our real mission, you might say, is to have that Soviet planner get up from his table every morning and turn to Mr. Khrushchev and shake his head and say: 'Today is not the day, comrade.'"

Then the general threw in the hooker. He told the committee this country's deterrent power—power of such obvious strength that Khrushchev would be discouraged from starting a war—is deteriorating.

The reason: bombers getting obsolete. He asked for more, and more modern bombers, plus more intercontinental ballistic missiles. Power's command would also handle the missiles.

Here and There

An interesting letter from a subscriber at Tarpon Springs, Fla., which will be at much interest to many readers generally follows:

"Tarpon Springs, Florida, March 3.

"Dear Editor: We are receiving your Times-Mirror here in Florida and in the Friday 27th issue there is an article about us and our relatives here in Florida for the winter. They have our name as A. M. Haag and it should be Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Haag, of 108 Oak street. We visited Fort Myers and went through the largest shell factory in the world. Then we took a ferry boat over to Sanibel Island and gathered sea shells on the beach. Also want to say that Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Francis, of Tarpon Springs, send you their best regards. We stayed with them four weeks before our cousins came down from Lakewood, N. Y. We have met several Warren people here: Mr. and Mrs. Watson, who use to have a grocery on Conewango avenue, live here and we also met the parents of Mr. and Mrs. Mathews. I believe Mr. Mathews is head of the Reserve Loan in Warren. Mr. and Mrs. Parsons, former head of the Warren YMCA were at Easter Services Sunday where we attended church and they send their best to all of their Warren friends. We are leaving for home the first—Regards, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Haag."

St. James Memorial Episcopal church in Titusville paid fitting honor, Sunday afternoon to one of its founders, Col. Edwin L. Drake, The tribute, in the form of a memorial service to Colonel Drake, held at three p. m., at the church, and described at length in Monday's Titusville Herald, contains much of historic interest to Episcopalians throughout the diocese. It follows:

The Rt. Rev. William Crittenden, D. D., bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Erie, who gave the sermon, pointed to Colonel Drake's "service to and love for the church."

Drake was warden and first treasurer of St. James' Church the bishop pointed out. He collected $8,000 toward the cost of constructing the present church building, the total cost of which was $11,000.

Bishop Crittenden informed the congregation at the special service that Colonel Drake was present at the first congregation in 1862, which was held, coincidentally, in a downtown Titusville building called "Crittenden's Hall." Perhaps, they they were relatives of his, the bishop remarked.

He went on to say that in September of 1863 Drake was present at the cornerstone laying of the church, while his wife, Laura, sang in the church choir that day.

The bishop told some of the details of Colonel Drake's coming to Titusville for the Seneca Oil Co. He quoted a few passages from Hildegarde Dolson's recently published book, "The Great Oilfields."

Although he died a poor man, Drake was, nevertheless a wise man, Bishop Crittenden said. His wisdom "can't be measured in terms of dollars and cents but in vision and purpose."

Drake was interested in founding a church, Bishop Crittenden said. "We should be equally concerned about the life of the church in the community and in the world today."

He added that in basing the U. S. foreign policies, "we take it for granted we are dealing with Christian people, which we are not."

"We must spread Christian principles throughout the world," the bishop said.

Rev. Albert Broadhurst, retired rector of St. James' Church, made a few remarks about Colonel Drake's relationship to St. James' Church. He referred to the country of Iraq, once the garden spot of the world later turned to desert by a lack of water, which only a few years ago became a land of wealth because of rich oil fields found there.

He said that while Colonel Drake was treasurer of the church, before there was a building, he received generous contributions from persons of other faiths and denominations, as well as Episcopalian, for the church. Rev. Broadhurst said the church was "the first permanent stone-building in the city, all others being wooden structures." The Parish House was the second permanent building, he said.

Rev. Broadhurst also had high praise for Drake's wife, Laura Doud Drake, who was "Always working for the church." Rev. Broadhurst, who started in 1912 as church rector for 35 years, officiated at Mrs. Drake's funeral service in 1916.

The retired rector also officiated at the funeral service of John Mather, famed photographer during the early oil days. Mr. Mather had offered to give Rev. Broadhurst all his negatives, he told the congregation. He said he was sorry he didn't accept them, because many of them were later destroyed or ruined.

During the service, Rev. John D. Wesley, pastor of the EUB Church of Titusville and president of the Titusville Ministerial Association, read a passage from the Scripture which began, appropriately enough, with the words, "Let us now praise famous men."

Also participating in the service was Rev. William K. Reid, rector of St. James' Church. A wreath of Easter lilies was

THIS EXPERIENCE in getting along with lawmakers has stood Herter in good stead in dealing with Congress. As an ex-member of their club, congressmen respect him. Having good relations with Congress is important for any secretary of state—as Dulles well knows.

In the two years that Herter has been undersecretary of state he has necessarily worked more behind the scenes as operating head of the department. Dulles has been front man and spokesman.

But during Dulles' many absences from Washington, it has been Herter who has made the day-to-day decisions, held the staff conferences, seen the diplomats and run the operations control board which carries out the policy decisions.

And any effort to sell him short would be a mistake.

Radio and TV

By CHARLES MERCOER
 NEW YORK (AP)—Wally Cox, who appears altogether too infrequently on television these days, was talking about the role he plays in "Wagon Train" episode April 15.

"No matter what you expect," he said, "I don't play a greenhorn. True, I'm a college graduate who plans to teach in San Francisco when the wagon train gets there some day. But I know a lot of Indian languages. I'm very savvy about Indians."

"So I walk up to the wagon master and produce an arrowhead the size of a hot dog and tell him not to take the trail ahead, but to go around because there are real bad Indians up ahead. Naturally this makes the wagon master mad, but just then a scout gallops up and says, 'We've got to go around because there are real bad Indians up ahead.'"

"That's the way it begins, at any rate, and I'm not going to tell you how it ends."

Cox, best remembered by television viewers as "Mr. Peepers," has a long term contract with NBC-TV that will run for 2½ years longer.

He has abandoned nightclub appearances. As he puts it, "I've forgotten my club act. Now I'll never have to work clubs again. It's a miserable life to me, though I suppose it's all right if you don't mind people talking while you work. Personally, I do."

Since he appears rarely on television and admittedly enjoys working, how does he pass his time living in a New York apartment with his wife and child? Does he find it demoralizing not to be working?

"But I'm working steadily," he said. "I'm doing a great deal of carpentry and I'm writing a play."

Cox finds that building furniture is a great aid to him in being a playwright.

"When I make a piece of furniture I draw a life-size design that anticipates the problems I'll face in building it. In writing on a play I've learned to draw up a life-size design that anticipates the problems I'll face in writing. Then I write the third act first."

dedicated near the close of the service. The wreath was later placed on the grave of Col. Drake by Genevieve Hlatt, state Secretary of Internal Affairs, Miss Hlatt was present.

At the conclusion of the service, those in the congregation traveled to Woodlawn Cemetery in a motorcade where the wreath-laying ceremony took place.

Ministers of the various churches of the city and vicinity were among the special guests at the service.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

(© 1958: By The Chicago Tribune)

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

REELING ALONG

True dizziness (vertigo) is a most disagreeable sensation. When the eyes are closed, the individual feels as though he is whirling about in space; when the eyes are open, the world is turning about him. It is unlike ordinary dizziness or fainting which usually is described as light headedness, giddiness, spots before the eyes, or unsteadiness within the head.

Vertigo stems from a disturbance of the centers of equilibrium in the ears or brain. Temporary changes can be produced, for example, by rolling downhill or turning around and around while in a standing position. Overindulgence in alcohol creates the same sensation.

True dizziness develops suddenly and often disappears just as abruptly. It may be so intense the individual falls to the ground, sidewalk, or street. The condition can be associated with intense nausea, vomiting, pallor, and sweating.

Disorders of the labyrinth of the ear are the most common causes of this type of dizziness. Various tests are available to determine the origin of the disturbance. Meniere's syndrome is one of the better known forms of labyrinthitis. The attacks come and go, often without warning. The victim suddenly reels and often is pitched to the ground. The bouts of dizziness generally last a few minutes but sometimes continue for hours or days. Roaring or ringing occurs in the involved ear and some sufferers become hard of hearing.

The most popular remedies include nicotinic acid, histamine, vitamin B12, Dramamine, or Marezine. Occasionally a restricted salt diet helps. A surgical treatment is available and may be recommended when other methods fail and the condition becomes incapacitating.

Should dizziness persist causes other than those mentioned should be considered. Brain tumor and circulatory disturbances are among the more serious in this group.

TOMORROW: Arteriosclerosis and diabetes.

EAR INFECTION AND NOISES

H. F. writes: Can an ear fungus infection cause sounds in the ear like a siren coming and going?

Reply
 Fungi are mute but ringing may develop if they lead to enough swelling to block the passageway. Wax accumulation will do the same. More common causes of ear noises include Meniere's syndrome (labyrinthitis), otosclerosis, infections of the inner ear, hardening of the arteries, and high blood pressure.

TE HOSPITALS
 E. D. writes: Do most states have adequate facilities to take care of patients with tuberculosis?

Reply
 Yes. It is conceivable that our tuberculosis hospitals will admit fewer and fewer patients in the future because of the progress made in treating the disease.

FAT AROUND THE HEART

Mrs. R. writes: What are the symptoms of excess fat around the heart?

Reply
 The same as they are for ordinary obesity. When a person gains weight, fat is deposited in all areas of the body, including the heart. Fat must be nourished, and as a result, many miles of new capillaries are laid down through which the blood flows. This creates an extra burden on the heart and it is this handicap, rather than the small amount of fat deposited around the heart muscle, that burdens the old ticker.

AMEBIC INFECTION

D. F. writes: I have amebiasis, as shown by blood tests, but never had any dysentery. Is this unusual?

Reply
 Only half the victims of amebiasis develop dysentery. Stool examinations are more reliable than blood tests in diagnosis.

Today's Health Hint—

Emotional stress causes physical disturbances.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
 NEW YORK (AP)—A sharp rebound in profits brightens the business scene today as the flow of reports on first-quarter operations gathers speed.

Two out of three companies reporting so far show significantly better results than in the opening months of 1958, and a majority are doing better than in the final months of that year.

The continuing flow will be closely scanned by stockholders, tax collectors and labor union officials.

Seventy nonfinancial corporations have reported to date, most of them for fiscal periods ending before March 31. Combined they show net income after taxes of $129,359,000 an increase of 13.5 per cent over the $108,165,000 the same companies reported in the first quarter of their 1958 year.

In the final three months of 1958 a much larger number of corporations showed profits had rebounded by 13 per cent from the year before.

The nation's largest banks, not included among the 70 corporations above, also have been reporting good operating profits in 1959. Those who slipped below a year ago mostly did so through selling older U. S. government securities at present depreciated prices to take tax losses and to buy newer bonds that pay more interest.

As always, the profit street is a two-way one. Of the 70 nonfinancial corporations 21 had earnings less this year than last and there were 8 dipping into red ink as against 11 in the same period a year ago.

Already the rebound in profits from the recession period is beginning to show up in dividends. The Department of Commerce reports that in January and February cash dividends totaled nearly 1½ billion dollars, up 3 per cent from the year before.

The sad record of dividend cuts, and omissions a year ago also is being reversed. In the first three months of 1959 reported increases came to 306, resumpstions to 57, extra payments to 180, while cuts were 38 and omissions 26. In the like 1958 period there were 148 cuts and 79 omissions, while increases were 157, resumpstions 11 and extras 174.

The U. S. treasury is as interested as the stockholders in the revival of profits, since it gets about one half of the gross earnings as corporate income tax, not to mention its take from swelling individual incomes through dividend receipts.

In preparing the federal budget the President estimated pretax profits for all of 1959 at between 47 and 48 billion dollars. If profits continue to rise at their current sharp rate, the year's total will top that and make balancing the budget that much less doubtful a task.

Thought for Today

I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord.—Psalms 122:1.

When once thy foot enters the church beware—
 God is more there than thou: for thou art there
 Only by His permission. Then beware,
 And make thyself all reverence and fear.

YOUNGSMITH PLANS FOR ALUMNI REUNION

The date has been set for the second Sunday in June for the reunion this year of the alumni of Youngsmith High School, which will be June 14. It will be in the form of a tureen dinner to be held in the afternoon in the elementary gym of the school.

As the custom has been in the past, invitations will not be mailed to members living in the area. A very different program is in the process of development.

It is now time for classes to plan individual meetings. It is hoped classes holding such reunions will try to plan them for the Saturday, June 13 preceding the alumni dinner. With this plan, those coming from a distance will be able to attend both affairs.

Those in correspondence with alumni are reminded it would be a good plan to inform them of the date, so they may make plans for June 14. Brokenstraw Valley residents remember many people travel a great distance for this affair, and are disappointed when everyone is not present, so all alumni are urged to attend.

GOLD STAR MOTHERS PLAN FUTURE EVENTS

A good attendance was present at the regular meeting of Warren County Chapter of Gold Star Mothers, held Monday evening at the American Legion Home. The charter was draped by the chaplain, Mrs. Ellen Sasserson, in memory of Mrs. Victoria Pequinot, who died March 12.

A tureen dinner is planned for 6:00 p. m. May 4 for all members and Gold Star Fathers, to be held at the Legion Home. Any member desiring to attend the annual state convention, to be held in Pittsburgh April 20, 21 and 22, may obtain information from Mrs. Myrtle Mangini or Mrs. Bessie Sullivan.

A working schedule was set up for members to help at the rummage sale, to be held Thursday Friday and Saturday of this week in the Schindler Bindery location. Those having any donations for the sale to be picked up, may telephone Mrs. Mangini, 782, or Mrs. Emma Kiernan, 4090.

CENTRAL WCTU MEETING

TODAY'S WOMEN

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Yermen's Editor
PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A 10-year-old ballerina from Palm Beach could be an American secret weapon.

She is Claudia Cravey, baby prima ballerina of the first American full-length ballet, "The Princess," produced by philanthropist Frank J. Hale and Paul Crabtree, and scheduled to open on Broadway in the fall. Next in impact could be her 8-year-old sister, Clara Beth.

"If we could present these wonderful American kids in this all-American ballet at the Moscow World's Fair, we'd steal all the thunder of the vaunted Russian ballet," says Hale. He's the founder of the Academy Royale, a non-profit institution dedicated to giving American boys and girls a chance to develop their talents in the ballet, the theater and music. Critics who have seen the fresh and charming ballet in its initial presentations in Palm Beach seem to agree with him. And so does the girl who wrote the libretto and trained the young dancers, Jo Anna, a ballerina from South Africa.

"We've all been taken in by a lot of intellectually snobbish hocus-pocus about the ballet," says Jo Anna. "Our intention here is to present a form of ballet which the general public can understand, and which gives an opportunity to the wonderful, fresh talent of American youngsters."

"You don't have to starve in a garret and live on borscht for 20 years to be a great ballerina. The proof is in these children who have captivated audiences at the Royal Poinciana after training of only a few months."

"We're in on the ground floor of a great new national awakening of art in America," says Hale. "Kids all over the country, in small towns and on farms from Maine to Arizona are feeling the urge to express themselves. If they've got what it takes, they'll have a chance to show it here. We screen applicants for the academy, and if they make the grade, they get scholarships. In this one year of operation, we've found that American youngsters do have what it takes."

"I think we can beat Russia on all fronts—not only in the field of Spunkies, but also in the field of their own ballet."

Patron Tickets Available For Concert by Boy Choir

Dr. Robert G. Smith, committee chairman, announces that a campaign has begun to sell advance patron tickets for the annual spring concert by the Warren Boy Choir, Pennsylvania's Singing Boys on Tuesday, May 5th.

Dr. Smith said that the 80 parents of the vocalists who sing in the first and second boy choirs are contacting local industry, business places, and individuals to give everyone a chance to support the Boy Choir through a patron gift.

For each patron gift of at least $10.00, two tickets to the annual concert will be issued. The Chairman stated that over the years several civic minded individuals have contributed large sums of money to keep the unique youth organization in operation. The Choir Board of Directors which is composed of both parents and businessmen feels that the opportunity to support this cultural activity should be extended to the entire community and are compiling the patron list for recognition at the spring show.

Walter Peterson, Choir Board president, pointed out that the Boy Choir is completing 12 years of operation this spring during which time the group has become a goodwill ambassador for Warren representing the cultural life of our town. The Boy Choir is a non-profit organization and, like the symphony orchestras of larger cities, depends to some extent on contributions from the public to carry on its work.

The patron sale will continue for one week and a generous response is hoped for. A general ticket sale for the spring concert will be held later under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arthur Engstrom.

Kane Republican: At simple but impressive ceremonies Sunday afternoon, the congregation of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church of Mt. Jewett broke ground for a new wing of native stone which represents the first phase of a "new church" program. The $80,000 project is located at the rear of the existing frame edifice parallel with Main street. More than 200 persons, including interested friends of the church, attended the ground-breaking rites at 2:30 p. m. Participating in the formal rite were the Rev. Paul M. Cornell, pastor of St. Matthew's, the Rev. Mallard L. Nelson of Tabor Lutheran Church in Kane and president of Wilcox District and the Rev. Martin L. Cornell of Cambridge, Mass., father of the Mt. Jewett pastor. The program was opened with a hymn, followed by prayer and the formal rite of ground breaking in which various church officials took part. The anthem "Beautiful Savior" was sung by the Children's Choir followed by the Lord's Prayer and a closing hymn. Native stone to be used in construction of the new unit has been quarried and will be cut at work bees by men of the congregation.

Written for NEA Service
North's three club bid was Stayman and asked South to show a four-card major suit if he had one. The subsequent bidding was fine and the six-heart contract would have been a wrap-up if clues had broken three-two.

As it was Seymour Topping of New York made the hand by means of an unusual elimination play.

He won the opening spade lead, drew trumps with two leads, cashed the ace and king of clubs and got the bad news in that suit.

He continued by ruffing the nine of spades in dummy, taking the ace and king of diamonds and ruffing dummy's last diamond in his own hand.

Then came the key play. He led the jack of spades and discarded one of dummy's losing clubs. West was in the lead and was forced to play a diamond or a spade.

It made no difference to Seymour. He discarded dummy's last club and ruffed in his own hand.

He had thrown one loser on another loser and forced West to give him a ruff and discard.

Florida Lad Killed By Powered Mower

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Twelve-year-old Richard Allen Wilson had something any boy would give his eye teeth to own—a home-made, lawn-mower-powered midget car and a paved circular track in a vacant lot to race it on.

Sunday, as his father watched, Richard's little car spun off the track at 35 miles an hour and hit the Wilson's parked car. Richard was killed.

News of Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

AF Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—One of the nation's most successful teen-agers would like to see an end to the label "teen-ager."

Says Carol Lynley, "Why shouldn't we be called 'people in their teen years'? When others hear the word 'teen-ager,' it brings up all kinds of connotations, mostly bad. You don't classify people who are 42 as '42-year-olds.' Why should those in their teens be stuck with a stigma?"

Carol is 17, a honey-blonde who is a honey. Her acting career is booming, on the stage and the home and movie screens. She recently signed a dream contract with 20th Century-Fox, which gives her the right to do outside pictures, plays and television. You know she's got to be hot to get a deal like that.

"They have been after me to sign since I was 13," said Carol, talking like an oldtimer. "But they wanted me to work at $300 a week and go to their acting school. I don't believe in acting schools for younger people. I've never had any acting lessons, and I won't have until I'm grown. I think lessons just confuse people who aren't mature."

As you can see, she has a mind of her own. And though she defends her contemporaries, she refuses to follow the established patterns of teen age—I mean people in their teen years.

For one thing, she doesn't like rock 'n' roll—it gives me a headache. Nor does she wear blue jeans. Except to practice dancing in—They don't look good on me."

All this brings us to her new picture, which is called "Blue Denim." She started it last week, the day after finishing another role in "Holiday for Lovers." She repeats the role she created in "Blue Denim" on Broadway, playing a 15-year-old girl who becomes pregnant.

New York-born (as plain Carol Jones), she started working at 10 as a model and actress. Her role as Dora in "David Copperfield" on TV first attracted 20th Century-Fox's interest.

Big Gasser Reported In Somerset County

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Peoples Natural Gas Co. today announced it has brought in a natural gas well in Somerset County with an initial open flow of 696,000 cubic feet daily.

The well is the Leland Walker No. 1 in Jenner Twp. near Somerset. It is the fourth producing well in the Williams Pool discovered last year.

Gas was struck Saturday night at a depth of 8,130 feet. The company plans to fracture the well in the hope of increasing the flow. The well was drilled by Snee & Eberly Drillers, Inc., of Uniontown on a 50-50 partnership arrangement with Peoples.

A spokesman for Peoples said another well, the Warnock, in the same area probably will be brought in the middle of this week.

Lakers To Resume Cup Chase With Boston Tonight

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — The Minneapolis Lakers are ready to gamble on a baseball pitcher to night to chill the hottest pinch hitter in pro basketball, Boston's Frank Ramsey.

The teams resume the National Basketball Assn.'s best four-of-seven final playoffs in the St. Paul Auditorium with the Celtics leading two games to none.

Coach Johnny Kundla of Lakers said he plans to give 6-foot-6 rookie Steve Hamilton, a long-term bench rider most of the season, a crack at stopping the sizzling Mr. Ramsey.

"When they send Ramsey in to troubleshoot for them I'll probably have Hamilton in there sooner or later," said coach Kundla.

Hamilton, who played college basketball at Morehead, Ky., is a southpaw pitcher in the Cleveland Indians chain. He had a 17-14 record with Burlington, N.C., in the class B Carolina League last year.

Red Schoendienst Out for Season His Doctors Say

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Manager Fred Haney said today he'll take over for Milwaukee Braves second baseman Red Schoendienst himself — but he'll do it from the bench.

"There isn't anyone in the game who could take over there like Red," Haney said, "and we don't have anyone even approaching his abilities, so I am going to do what I can from the dugout."

Schoendienst, under treatment for tuberculosis, won't be able to play baseball this year, doctors say.

Haney has been using Felix Mantilla and Chuck Cottier to plug the gap and Milwaukee recently acquired infielder Johnny O'Brien from the Philadelphia Phillies for added bench strength.

First Base for Bucs Still Seems Enigma

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Who'll be on first? Klu? maybe Stu? or will it be Nelson?

That's the question manager Danny Murlaugh of the Pittsburgh Pirates will answer Thursday when the Pirates meet the Redlegs at Cincinnati in the National League opener.

"We'll keep three of them for awhile at least," said Murlaugh referring to his three first basemen Ted Kluszewski, Dick Stuart and Rocky Nelson.

"I would like to see Stuart start," commented Murlaugh. "I think he would mean an awful lot to the club if he played."

"Klu has been a pleasant fellow to watch this spring, though," added the Pirate manager.

Maple Leafs But One Victory From The Hockey Finals

BOSTON (AP) — The Toronto Maple Leafs are one victory away from the first all-Canadian Stanley Cup hockey final series since 1951.

The Boston Bruins are on the brink of a third straight championship round clash with Montreal.

The playoff comes tonight on Boston garden ice when what was once a best-of-seven series boils down to 60 minutes of mayhem to decide which club gets a crack at the National Hockey League's coveted cup.

It's winner take all, nothing barred.

The Leafs, down 2-0 in the series, rallied to win three in a row before the Bruins pulled out a back-to-the-wall 5-4 decision at Toronto Saturday night. That squared matters three victories apiece.

Back in 1951 Toronto met Montreal in the finals and whipped Canadians in five games — all overtime.

Boston has reached the tune round the previous two years only to lose to Montreal which now is seeking an unprecedented fourth straight Stanley Cup triumph after turning back Chicago in six games.

The losing team tonight skates off with $150 per man and the winners $1,250. But the team which advances will get at least another $750 per head if it loses in the finals.

Indianapolis To Get Heavyweight Bout May First

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Promoter Cecil Rhodes Jr. returns here today hoping to tie together the loose ends after suddenly switching the May 1 heavyweight title bout between champion Floyd Patterson and England's Brian London from Las Vegas to Indianapolis.

Rhodes, a Cranford, N.J. industrialist promoting his first fight, announced the switch in sites Monday, contending he wanted to escape rumors of gamblers' backing.

The new site of the fight, first title bout in Indiana boxing history, is the State Fairgrounds Coliseum which seats about 13,500.

Rhodes, a 34-year-old Harvard Law graduate, said there weren't any gamblers backing the Las Vegas, Nev. fight but added: "I don't want that kind of implication."

In Las Vegas, civic leaders said the real reason was because "resort operators refused to give the financial support requested by the fight promoter."

Patterson is scheduled to arrive here late next week and train in the Coliseum London also is expected to arrive next week.

Miteff Has Easy Time Over Carter In Second Round

NEW YORK (AP) — Vitamin pills and a second-round knockout win over Harold Carter have Argentina's Alex Miteff "feel like a tiger again."

That old feeling may earn the husky, 24-year-old gaucho a shot at British champion Henry Cooper in Madison Square Garden this May or June.

Alex blew a contracted bout with Cooper in London when he was stopped in the first round by German Willie Besmanoff last Sept. 28. Miteff said an injury to his right knee was mainly responsible for the costly defeat.

Miteff looked 100 per cent sound Monday night in slowing away Carter in 2:21 of the second round of a 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

St. Nick's matchmaker Teddy Brenner said he would try to rent Madison Square Garden for a Cooper-Miteff scrap.

"That would be very good," said the 24-year-old Argentine. "I feel like tiger again — very, very strong. I take vitamin pills now and they make me feel strong."

Giants Should Dethrone Braves; Bucs To Make It Three-Way Race

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A devastating attack, a vastly improved pitching staff and a combination of speed and youth should enable the San Francisco Giants to dethrone the Milwaukee Braves as National League champions in 1959.

Milwaukee's chances of gaining a third straight pennant are endangered by the lack of a solid second baseman to replace the convalescing Red Schoendienst, a lingering doubt whether the ailing knees of Wes Covington and Billy Burton are completely mended, and an underlying feeling of complacency on the part of the two-time champions.

Pittsburgh's brash young Pirates, with their solid hitting, stronger pitching and tighter defense, should make it a three-way race right down to the barrier.

The expected finish:

1. San Francisco
2. Milwaukee
3. Pittsburgh
4. Los Angeles
5. Cincinnati
6. St. Louis
7. Chicago
8. Philadelphia

The acquisition of Sam Jones, the National League's stingiest run-yielder last year, from St. Louis, and Jack Sanford, another strong-armed right-hander, from Philadelphia, figures to solve the Giants' pitching problem. These two, together with lefties Johnny Antonelli and Mike McCormick, plus second liners Stu Miller and Curt Barclay and relievers Al Worthington, Billy Muffett and Paul Giel, give promise of a 50 per cent stronger staff than last year.

The antelope outfield of Willie Mays, Jackie Brandt and Felipe Alou may be the best in Giant history. Orlando Cepeda, the rookie-of-the-year of 1958, is back at first base.

The Braves' powerful pitching plus the home run bats of Henry Aaron, Eddie Mathews, Del Crandall, Joe Adcock and Covington, make them extremely dangerous.

Pittsburgh has just about everything but explosive power. The trade that sent Frank Thomas to Cincinnati left the club with only one proven home run hitter—Dick Stuart.

The Reds have a strong batting order but must get a lot of victories out of rookie pitchers Jim O'Toole and Orlando Pena to figure in the pennant race.

The Dodgers figure to climb several notches because of the better conditioned Duke Snider, the hitting of Wally Moon, the fine spring pitching of Don Drysdale, Johnny Podres and Clem Labine, the improvement of catcher Johnny Roseboro and the presence of several promising youngsters, led by outfielder Don Fairly.

—St. Louis needs more pitching and more hitting.

Ernie Banks, Alvin Dark, Walt Morin, Bobby Thompson and Lee Walls should keep the Cubs out of the cellar. The Phillies will have a tough time emerging from the basement.

Richards Names His Lineup for Thursday Opener

BALTIMORE (AP) — Manager Paul Richards has named the tentative starting lineup, with the exception of the pitcher, he will send against the Washington Senators Thursday, opening day of the 1959 baseball season.

There was one surprise. Richards had former Cleveland second baseman Bobby Avila down to play right field and veteran Oriole outfielder Bob Nieman was on the bench.

What made Richards decide to go with Avila in right after a brief trial at the position in spring training? The manager explained: "Nieman and (Gene) Woodling are both better suited to play left field. Ideally, you'd rather not play them both at one time, with one in left and one in right, because they don't cover too much ground and neither has much of an arm."

Richards' batting order: Willie Tasby, cf; Bob Boyd, 1b; Avila, rf; Woodling, lf; Gus Trandoss, c; Billy Klaus, 3b; Billy Gardner, 2b; and Ron Hansen, ss.

Part IV—Outfield
If there is one department in which 1959 Pirates are loaded with talent, it is in the outfield. Starting outfield for the '59 club will undoubtedly show Bob Skinner in left, Bill Virdon in center and Roberto Clemente in right.

Skinner, an All-Star game selection last year, is one of the best looking left-handed hitters in NL, and is chosen by many experts to follow in Stan Musial's shoes as "The" left-handed hitter in the League.

Skinner hit .321 last season, fifth highest in the league, with 70 RBIs. At 27, he's one of the most feared hitters in Pirates' lineup. And he played most of last year with injuries. He became fifth hitter in Forbes Field history to clear right field stands with a homerun. Skinner was hitting in No. 2 or 3 slot in Pirates batting order until Aug. 8 last season, when he was promoted to clean up. With Skinner in No. 4 slot, Pirates' played .640 ball, winning 32 and losing only 18. He was the club's most consistent hitter in '58, being under .300 mark for only 12 playing days—and they came early in the year when he was 0 for 4 day could drop a batting average 20 points or more.

Bob was once considered a very poor fielder. But he's spent a lot of time and effort improving his outfield and learning to play the left field walls in the League. With a smooth, level swing, he's one of the prettiest hitters in the League to watch.

In center, Bill Virdon is one of the most underrated players in the loop. He has speed to burn and a very fine arm. Virdon is Pirates' lead-off man and a good hitter. He shipped last season, hitting only .267, but in '58 he hit .319. He is also one of the League's toughest hitters to double up. Bill hit into only five twin killings last year, which tied a Pittsburgh club record.

Right field belongs to Roberto Clemente. The flashy, colorful "Arriba" is the darling of Forbes Field faithful and one of the best young players in the League. He too has speed to burn and frequently runs through coaches' signals on the bases. He likes to make the "basket catch" like Willie Mays. And brings the crowd to its feet more than once during a game with his rifle-like throws from deep right center to home or third.

Arriba joined U. S. Marines on their six-month program right after Pirates clinched second place last September. Fortunately for Pirates, he was discharged about two weeks ago, joining them in camp.

Breaking into Pirate outfield is rough task. Roman Mejias could undoubtedly win a starting outfield job on another club, but he's on Pirate bench. Mejias subbed for each of the three starting outfielders at one time or another last season. Playing for Virdon on May 4 in San Francisco, he hit three homers in one game.

Another reserve outfielder, who could make the '59 club is rookie Joe Christopher. He's a strong, powerful hitter and a fine fielder. Also trying to make this year's Pirates is Jim McDaniel, who led Pacific Coast League in homers (37) and RBIs (100) last year.

Whether you count regulars or reserves, Pirates are rich in outfielders.

Canadiens Try For Stanley Cup For Ninth Time

MONTREAL (AP) — Maurice (Rocket) Richard, veteran of 121 playoff games, geared himself today for an all-out scrimmage session as the Montreal Canadiens prepared for their ninth straight appearance in a Stanley Cup final.

Return of the 37-year-old Rocket after a three-month layoff might be an ominous indication that hockey history will be repeated, whether the Canadiens meet Boston Bruins or Toronto Maple Leafs. Boston and Toronto settle their semifinal series tonight in Boston.

Back in November 1937, Richard suffered an injury that almost severed an Achilles tendon. He came back in the tail end of the regular National Hockey League season and roared through the 1938 playoffs with an amazing 11 goals, one short of his own record set 14 years previously.

Last Jan. 18, the Rocket was again laid low with a crippling injury. A foot bone was fractured, and there were predictions that the NHL's all-time top scorer at last was through.

Since mid-March Richard has been skating again. Nobody will be surprised if Richard takes up his old rightwing spot when the series opens in Montreal Thursday.

FINAL REGISTRATION FOR HOT STOVE

Boys who plan on playing on a Hot Stove League team this summer and who have not registered yet, are reminded that tonight is the last opportunity to do so. Special registration areas have been set up in the various wards, in Pleasant Township, Kinzua and North Warren. Signing of prospective players will begin at 6:30.

Boating's in Season All Year

By WM. TAYLOR McKEOWN
Editor, Popular Boating
If you are one of the 37 million Americans who went boating last year, you're undoubtedly planning already for the season ahead.

But if you are a member of an even larger group who are interested in the sport and would like to take part, you are in for a surprise this year. Now you can get started boating more quickly than ever before. This coming weekend is not too soon to get out in the water.

Time was when a yachtsman in the North launched his boat on the 30th of May. Today you will find millions of boatmen "go into commission" by simply backing their cars down to the water's edge and floating off outboard runabouts from trailers. A sunny day any time of the year, any place in the country where the water is not frozen, will now bring out the modern boating family.

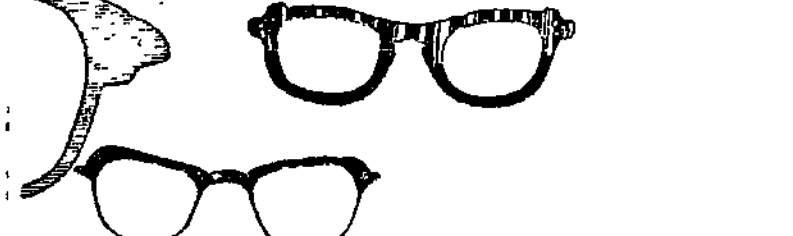

Today's experienced boatman will recommend that you study the improved craft now available if you plan to buy your first boat. Applications of wood, plastics, and metal have been markedly improved over the past few years, and you will find your choice will be stronger in rough seas, faster over smooth water, and much easier to maintain.

Boatmen in the South who haul out their larger craft this time of year for a spring coat of paint, and Northerners who are doing the same before launching, will both be using

Sizing Up the Teams

KANSAS CITY ATHLETICS

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Harry Craft has set a modest goal for his Kansas City club for 1959. The personable young pilot of the Athletics wants 77 victories, only four more than the seventh place A's won last year.

Why 77? That would give his charges a .300 won lost percentage, a figure the A's haven't reached since 1932. After these 77 triumphs would push Kansas City into the first division, Craft doesn't know. But he's willing to take his chance on it.

"There's no doubt in my mind that we're improved," Craft said. "But where we finish depends upon how much the other clubs have improved. Our aim is to hit .300. We've got to reach that percentage before we can talk about first division."

The A's biggest improvement, according to Craft, has been in pitching and on the bench. The A's also appear to have a brand new fast basemen in rookie Kent Hadley and are pleased with the fine play of Hal Smith, the converted catcher, at third base. Craft is willing to stack up his regular outfield of Bob Cox,

Roger Maris and Bill Tuttle against any trio in the league. He is satisfied that Frank House and Harry Chitt will give the club ample protection behind the plate. "Our pitching was quite a question mark last year," Craft said. "This year it should be more stable, more effective. The work of several of our pitchers has been a pleasant surprise. We've gotten help from unexpected quarters. Russ Meyer and Art Houtteman. They've added depth to the staff having them come through as like money in the bank."

Craft's big four consists of Bob Gern (7-7), Ralph Terry (11-13), Ned Garver (12-11) and Ray Herbert (3-3). There is a scramble for the fifth starting spot among Jack Urban (8-11), Bud Dale (3-2) and Meyer.

"The team will be a little more competitive this year," said Craft.

"The competition for positions is more spirited. We have a number of men who can play several positions. The game is getting to be that way. You've got to be as resourceful as you can. That's what killed us last year. We just had no bench."

The A's regular infield consists of Halley, Hector Lopez, Joe DeMaestri and Smith.

Life Term To Be Asked For 14-Year-Old Boy

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The state has indicated it may seek a life prison term for 14-year-old Jerry Paack of Brackenridge, one of the youngest murder defendants in Allegheny County history.

Prosecutor Samuel Strauss made it plain in questioning prospective jurors Monday that he would not ask the death penalty. However, 21 jurors were challenged for cause, most of them because they indicated they would not consider a life sentence for a defendant so young.

Eight jurors were selected in the first day of proceedings.

Paack is charged in the death last November of Mrs. Lillian Stevick, 54, a neighbor of the short but muscular defendant. She allegedly was struck over the head with a lead pipe.

Government

To top that off, Strauss said other government data, some of it still to be released, shows the national economy is whirling along at the end of 1959's first quarter at its greatest pace ever in history.

The commerce secretary said that with national income at a peak and prices remaining stable, purchasing power never was higher; the value of all goods and services, or gross national product, is also at a record.

In fact, said Strauss, "The signs indicate that the current spring vigor in the economy should increase in the coming months."

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Rep. Richard M. Simpson of Pennsylvania, chairmen of the GOP campaign committees of the two houses of Congress, have objected publicly that Morton could devote only part time to the committee chairmanship because of his senatorial duties.

They were understood, however, to be among those who would find Summerfield acceptable for the post, despite his Cabinet chores.

The postmaster general was not immediately available for comment on whether he would agree to accept. He held the job for six months in 1952 and quit when he entered the Cabinet. Summerfield has maintained close relations with the party's conservatives although he left the Taft wing to throw vital support to President Eisenhower in 1952.

School Board Meeting Has Visit From Seneca Street Parent-Teacher Delegation

The regular meeting of the board of School Directors last evening at the High School was attended by a committee from the Seneca Parent-Teacher unit with a letter containing questions concerning the future plans of the Board for South Side elementary school children. The Board advised that they have plans under way and money provided for a study of the elementary needs of Warren, and that until the study is completed no definite answer can be volunteered.

The situation is complicated by the fact that as yet no report has been received from the Department of Labor and Industry concerning the inspection of school buildings in Warren. Mrs. R. G. Smith, chairman of the committee, and Al Buerkle spoke for the delegation.

The preliminary consideration was given to the 1959-60 budget totaling $1,166,886. It was an increase over last year's budget which was $1,127,741. Since the total valuation was not yet received, the tax rate cannot be determined. The increased budget will require an increase in total local tax. A resolution was passed re-enacting the $5 tax on each inhabitant over 21 years old.

The Superintendent was asked to invite James Hill to attend the May meeting and discuss the art curriculum in the elementary schools. In response to the salary notices sent to the teachers, two kindergarten and one first grade teacher have resigned. Swanson, Glass & Coates were asked to audit the accounts again this year. A rental of $2.50 an hour for all of the elementary buildings, excepting Jefferson where the rental is $5 an hour, was established beginning July 1, 1959. It was agreed that the School Board should pay the proper share for the paving done during the summer when it adjoins school property. Joe Williamson was approved for in-home training.

Substitutes employed during the month were approved for $280.00; recreation services, $110.00; special services, $386.96; and janitors' overtime, $215.25.

After considerable consideration F. E. Sturgeon, engineer from Grove City, was employed to draw plans and write special specifications for conversion of heating boilers at Jefferson school from coal to gas. Consideration was given to the age at which kindergartners might be entered in kindergarten. The matter had been discussed at considerable length by elementary principals and teachers. Beginning in September 1960, only those children who are five (5) years old by December 1 will be permitted to start kindergarten. It was reported that the plan of informing parents concerning the progress of the boy and girls

Early Confirmation Of O'Hara Predicted

HARRISBURG (AP) — The chairman of the Senate Executive Nominations Committee today predicted early confirmation of the appointment of William F. O'Hara, Scranton Democrat, to the Public Utility Commission.

Sen. Robert F. Fleming (R-Allegheny) said he could see no objection to approving a 10-year term for the 40-year-old Scranton attorney.

"We will give the nomination every consideration and look into his qualifications," Fleming said. "As of now, I can foresee no particular opposition to him."

O'Hara was nominated to the $19,000-a-year post Monday by Gov. Lawrence.

If the Senate approves the appointment, the commission will be divided between three Republicans and two Democrats. O'Hara would take the place of John B. Conly, Pittsburgh Republican, whose term expired April 1.

in first grade had been most satisfactory. It was approved for the coming year. First grade teachers visited homes during the first eight days of school in the afternoons. During November parents visited the teachers for a conference at school. In January the teachers wrote a letter to the parents. Now they are either writing a second letter or asking for a second visit by the parents. At the end of the year they will receive their first report card. Since it has worked so well in first grade it is planned for next year that in November the parents of second grade children will be asked to visit the school. In early April a letter will be sent to the parents. In January and June they will receive the usual report card. The Board gave approval to this plan for the coming year.

A letter was received from Miss Joan Kondak, secretary of the Warren Education Association, thanking the Board for the salary schedule established this year.

Miss Margaret Horn was given permission to attend the Pennsylvania School Nurses Institute in Harrisburg, May 2, 1959. Orders were approved as written during the month in the amount of $245.39. The Milk Report was approved authorizing the payment of bills totaling $854.63. An additional loan of $100 was made from the General Fund to permit bills to be paid.

On recommendation of J. Russell Hanson, Chairman of Buildings and Grounds Committee, the following building usages were approved: Seneca PTA be permitted to use the building for an ice cream social May 7, 1959; Home Street Parents' Club be permitted to use the building for an ice cream social April 24, 1959; South Street PTA be permitted to use the building for an ice cream social May 6, 1959; Jefferson PTA be permitted to use the building for an ice cream social May 20, 1959; Tiona Diamond Grange be permitted to use Jefferson Auditorium for a play May 2, 1959.

A purchase of flush valve parts from the J. A. Sexauer Manufacturing Company for $257.52 was approved. The report of M. E. Jewell, Chairman Finance Committee, was approved authorizing payment of bills amounting to $43,898.12, the large bill being $39,648.00 to the Jointure for operation of Beatty and High School. Since has not as yet been received as due from the State, the officers were authorized to borrow $75,000.00 for operating expenses.

David Merenick, Miss Mary Evelyn Hill, and Miss JoAnn Foggan were employed as teachers beginning September, 1959. The resignation of Mrs. Sarah Lilja was accepted with regret.

Finder of Crisp New $1,000 Bill Hopeful

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Trudy Wesson had the extraordinary luck of finding a crisp $1,000 bill, and she is taking extraordinary pains to make it legal.

Mrs. Wesson, a domestic worker, told an attorney she used to work for that she found the bill in a rubbish box. Law enforcement agencies were checked. None had any reports of a lost $1,000 bill. The lawyer consulted his law books and found an 1872 statute that seemed to fit the case.

Under that law, he filed an affidavit, subsequently signed by a municipal court judge. The law says Mrs. Wesson's claim to the money will carry more validity than the actual owner's unless the owner claims the bill within a year.

The division ruled it was illegal to place sponges and water pans in polling booths for the convenience of sticker lickers.

LAKE OPEN HALF WAY

Jamestown Sun: Most of the winter's ice has gone out of the lower half of Chautauque Lake. Monday, the lake was open, shore to shore, from Bemus Point to the head of the Outlet. Some surface ice, most of it badly cracked and rotted, remained between Bemus and Mayville. Sunday's rain and windstorm helped remove the lake's annual coating and the "fair and warmer" prediction for today made it almost certain the lake will soon be open for its entire length.

JAMESTOWN BUS SERVICE

Jamestown will continue to have bus service for another two months, or until a traffic survey being conducted by the bus company is completed. This development was made known Monday afternoon at a meeting between a bus committee of the Retail Merchants Assn. and Eton Seymour, local manager of the bus company. Emmett Eckman, chairman of the merchants' committee said Seymour told the group that his company is making a survey of each bus route to determine the peak hours of traffic. Seymour said it would be about two months before the survey is completed. In addition to the committee there were present four members of the Associations executive committee. The group discussed what could be done to encourage the use of busses by city and area residents.

County Receives Large Sums for Local Road Funds

Warren and Crawford counties' political subdivisions will receive a total of $641,345.07 in local road funds this month according to a Harrisburg dispatch. The money represents the first installment for the year under terms of an act authorizing $30 million annually to municipalities throughout the state for construction and maintenance of streets, roads and bridges. Derived from the liquid funds tax and apportioned directly to a population-read-milage basis, current payments have been fattened to 90 per cent of the total annual allocation, rather than the usual 50 per cent. The remaining 10 per cent will be paid when the second installment falls due in October.

Warren county's subdivisions will be paid as follows: Bear Lake borough, $740.72; Brokenstraw township, $13,724.10; Cherry Grove twship, $1,090.06; Clarendon boro, $1,277.98; Columbus twship, $1,049.96; Conewango twship, $15,929.36; Cowand twship, $1,496.42; Deerfield twship, $6,523.98; Eldred twship, $11,389.14; Elk, $7,864.22; Farmington, $15,080.14; Freehold, $13,292.58; Glade, $6,114.84; Kinzua, $2,079.84; Limestone, $3,076.12; Pine Grove, $9,116.32; Pleasant, $3,893.94; Sheffield, $7,049.78; Southwest, $8,829.18; Spring Creek, $14,623.14; Sugar Grove twship, $16,763.68; Sugar Grove boro, $1,482.68; Tidoute boro, $2,258.08; Triumph, $8,193.24; Twarren boro, $25,010.90; Watson, $279.54; Youngsville boro, $3,750.82.

Objectionable

W. Johnson, GOP floor leader, that there are no Republican votes for it.

This GOP opposition, coupled with the stand of 17 House Democratic rebels, has stymied the sales law since it was defeated March 19.

Other legislative developments: Mine probe—The Dauphin County Court postponed a decision on the legality of a legislative investigation of a mine disaster which took the lives of 12 men near Pittston in January.

Acting President Judge William H. Neely said the court would look at the transcript of hearings held so far before making a decision.

Louis Fabrizio, president of the Knox Coal Co., whose operations were involved in the disaster, has challenged the legality of the committee's investigation.

Horse racing—The House moved into position for debate a measure to authorize a referendum in the May 19 primary election on the question of legalizing pari-mutuel horse race betting in Pennsylvania.

Chairman Charles J. Mills (D-Westmoreland) of the House Law and Order Committee said support of the measure was waning. Johnson said there was a possibility it may be returned to committee.

Emergency succession — The Lawrence administration submitted legislation to the House providing for succession of state officials in the event of an atomic attack in Pennsylvania.

Baseball beer sales—The House restricted to Philadelphia a proposal to permit the sale of beer in baseball parks and moved the proposal into position for a final vote Wednesday.

Previously, Forbes Field at Pittsburgh had been covered by the bill.

Taxes—Johnson announced the GOP position after his caucus decided for the third time to withhold any support of the measure as now written.

McCann declined comment when asked about reports there were enough Democratic votes to increase the 3 per cent sales tax to 3 1/2 per cent but knock out the beer, liquor and automobile trade-in exemptions.

Removal of these exemptions would cut 101 million dollars from the revenue estimated for the sales tax measure. Lawrence has consistently refused to agree to revising the 400-million-dollar tax package first proposed by a bipartisan tax committee.

In addition to sales tax changes, the committee proposed — and Lawrence recommended — expanding the Commonwealth's fiscal program in other directions.

The other measures, still in the hands of the House Ways and Means Committee, range from revising the cent-a-bottle soft drinks tax to imposing a four-mill levy on personal property.

Master Magician D'Amato Shows His Stuff at Vegas

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

LAS VEGAS, Nev.—(NEA)—Cus D'Amato started to convert the fight game into vaudeville when Floyd Patterson won the heavyweight championship by hitting old Archie Moore on top of the head at the Chicago Stadium.

First off, D'Amato proved himself a master magician by making Patterson disappear.

After collecting $250,000 for boxing an amateur, Pete Rademacher, D'Amato added a bit of melerdrammer to the bill by cloak-and-dagger tactics in making the famed bout with Roy Harris, a harmless Cutler and Shooter out of Texas, in Los Angeles.

Until now, the program unintentionally funny, lacked professional comedy.

D'AMATO CAPPED THAT with the announcement Patterson would fight Brian London, of England, in Las Vegas in late April, or only a month after the match was announced and only two months before the big one with Ingemar Johansson at Yankee Stadium, June 23.

It was at this juncture, we discovered on arrival in this hotel of gambling, that Joe E. Lewis, top night club entertainer, got into the act.

Adding to the show business touch, the Patterson-London battle will be the second production at a new semiopen Las Vegas Convention Center. The first will be the International Convention of Variety Clubs on April 1.

WE WERE IN PHOENIX with the baseball Giants when the Patterson-London affair was announced at a typical D'Amato secret press conference. It was to be held at Las Vegas, with the backing of the hotels and gambling joints, the story read. Cecil Rhodes Jr., and Donald R. Nelson, young Bayonne, N.J., steel mill executives and horse owners, were in on the deal.

So was Beldon Kattelman, proprietor of El Rancho Vegas, one of the more unusual desert pitfalls, it was reported. Las Vegas is only a golf ball flight from Phoenix, so we hopped a plane. To our astonishment, there wasn't a stickman, croupier or anybody else on the strip who had heard of the fight coming up. So, we sauntered across the street to the El Rancho Vegas to consult Beldon Kattelman.

"Yes, I understand we've got a fight," he opened. "Joe E. Lewis told me so."

KATTELMAN HAD NEVER HEARD of Rhodes until the latter called him on the telephone.

"He told me he was a friend of Joe E. Lewis," said Kattelman. "He wanted to know if the Las Vegas hotelman would be interested in putting up money for a Patterson-London fight. The answer was in the negative."

"But Rhodes called again to tell me that the broadcasting company had agreed the television money to where it was comparable to Patterson's guarantee. Would we be interested in helping with the remainder of the financing? We would." D'Amato, it seems, was stuck with a $70,000 guarantee to London and obligated to Harry Levine, the London promoter.

Anderson May Be Driver of Car Evidence Shows

Present indications, both from witnesses' accounts past week and evidence revealed in recent days, might prove that Jack Anderson, who died in Warren General Hospital Sunday, was driver of the car in which he and three other area people received serious injury.

Autopsy report on Anderson's body showed internal cerebral hemorrhages due to fracture of sphenoid bone, severe cerebral concussion, hemopericardium due to trauma to heart, which may have been caused from contact with the steering wheel.

Investigating State Police late last week believed Anderson was the possible driver. An eye witness told Trooper Paul Dell Monday that when Anderson and Leland Shorts, Jr., owner of the car, left his hotel taproom the night of the accident, Shorts did not drive the car.

As pieces of the story slowly fell together, it was believed young Anderson drove away from the hotel when approached by Tidoute Police Chief Dalton Hunter.

Hunter intended to investigate a loud muffler on the car. Approaching the vehicle, Hunter said one of the men was standing in rear of the car using vulgar language. He ran around and got in right side of the car as Hunter approached. The identity of this man was learned through investigation as Shorts. He was arrested Monday on a disorderly conduct charge. The arrest had no bearing whatsoever on the accident.

Dell said that Shorts may also be charged with a violation, as Anderson had no 1959 drivers' license and was operating Shorts' car.

Miss Esther Johnson, 18, of Tidoute who was also injured in the mishap, showed signs of regaining consciousness today. Police will try to question Johnson to obtain information concerning happenings before the crash and driver of the car when it rammed a house. Robert Anderson, brother of Jack, is coming along nicely. Questioning of him was also expected this afternoon.

Funeral services for the victim of the crash will be conducted Thursday at 1:30.

Cancer Goal Unlimited!

Printed as a public service in behalf of the American Cancer Society 1959 Crusade

There is no ceiling on the amount of money needed to fight cancer according to an official of the Warren County Unit, American Cancer Society, who explained why the national organization will launch its 1959 Crusade without fixing a final goal, this year.

In a statement issued at Crusade headquarters, 404 Market Street, Colonel Edward Ayres, Crusade chairman said, "We plan to have a target to shoot at here during April, but it will be a minimum one. There is no maximum goal." Nationally the Society for the first time in history will adopt a goal unlimited.

According to Colonel Ayres this decision resulted from a careful search by the national Board of Directors for more dynamic ways of presenting the research, education and service needs of the Society to the American public. "The public must face the fact of the emergency nature of the cancer problem so that it can accept the full responsibility of supplying the resources needed to deal with it," Colonel Ayres stated. "You can't fix a dollar ceiling on the lives of some 450,000 men, women, and children who develop cancer each year."

It would be unrealistic to fix a ceiling for research funds at a time when there is new hope and many research needs are unmet, the Crusade chairman said. "Today there is hope," Cancer research is on the march. The world never before has seen so many brilliant minds employed on a single health problem. The ACS is supporting more than 1,000 scientists in research centers throughout the country. Many other scientists, including young scientists trained since the war, have asked for Society support but funds are not presently available.

"There is a feeling of urgency in the scientific community with the cancer problem that is new and unique. Enough of the duct of the ages of ignorance has been swept away to reveal the scope and size of the cancer problem... and how it may well be solved," the Colonel declared.

"Placing the objectives in human terms rather than dollar terms carries with it the full meaning of the April Crusade against cancer."
